2. How super works

Superannuation (super) is, in part, a compulsory savings scheme to help you save for retirement. Government-mandated tax concessions can make super a tax-effective investment for many members.

Your super is made up of compulsory contributions made by your employer (called superannuation guarantee (SG) contributions) and you can add before and/or after-tax contributions to grow your super savings.

You may also be eligible for a government super co-contribution, subject to meeting eligibility criteria.

You can generally choose your super fund. As super is likely to be one of the largest investments you make during your lifetime, it may be a good idea to keep your super all together in one fund, such as Prime Super.

You have the right to choose the super fund into which your employer pays your SG contributions. If you start a new job, your new employer needs to identify, and contribute to, your current, active super fund. If you don't nominate a super fund, or your employer cannot find a current, active account, you will usually join your employer's default fund.

You can advise your employer at any time if you want to change your super fund.

If you are considering Prime Super as your fund, make sure you read our Member Guide to make an informed decision.

You can transfer to a new fund at any time and close an existing super account, but before you change, check and assess any loss of insurance benefits and fees or costs.

Super is for your retirement, so there are rules around when and how much you can withdraw from your account and limits on how much money you can put into the tax-effective super environment.

 You should read the important information about how super works before making a decision. Go to Section 2 of the Member Guide at primesuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to how super works may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

4. Risks of super

Super is a long-term investment. You save money in a tax-effective environment during your working life to support your lifestyle when you retire.

All investments, including super, have a level of risk. The level of risk you are willing to accept for your super investments will depend on a range of factors, including:

- your age
- your investment timeframe – how long your money will be invested
- the value and amount of your savings or investments outside of super
- your risk tolerance – how comfortable you are risking your existing super benefits to grow your investment.

This is known as your 'risk-reward profile'.

Investment types

Super funds invest in assets generally categorised as either 'growth' or 'defensive' assets and typically include:

- shares (growth)
- listed and unlisted property (growth and/or defensive)
- fixed interest (defensive)
- cash (defensive).

Significant risks of super

Depending on the investment strategy chosen, and the assets that make up that strategy, different levels of risk apply. For example, assets that aim for higher returns over the longer term generally carry the highest level of risk in the short term.

When you select an investment option consider that:

- the value of your investment will rise and fall over time
- the level of returns may vary from those anticipated and because rates of return are not guaranteed, you may lose some of your money

- future returns may differ from past returns
- the amount of your investment (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to adequately provide for your retirement
- government policies and laws may change.

Other factors to consider

When you consider investing with Prime Super, be aware that investment market conditions are always changing and may affect the value of your super account.

Your investments will also be subject to:

- movement in exchange rates, interest rates and inflation rates
- changes in super and tax laws that could affect your benefit or ability to access your benefit
- decisions made by fund managers retained by the Trustee
- investment risks such as concentration or diversification risk, counterparty risk, country risk, liquidity risk, and operational risk.

i You should read the important information about the risks associated with investing in super before making a decision. Go to Section 4 of the Member Guide at primesuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to risks of super may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

5. How we invest your money

You can choose from 10 different investment options

It is important to give careful consideration to the differences between investment options, as they can have a significant impact on your super benefit over time.

You can select one or a mix of the options below, depending on your own investment strategy and risk tolerance.

Prime Super's investment options
Pre-mixed options	Sector options
MySuper	Australian Shares
Managed Growth	International Shares
Alternatives	Property
Conservative	Fixed Interest
Income Focused	Cash

! Risk vs. Return
When choosing an investment option, you should consider the likely investment returns, the risk (eg. fluctuations in returns) and your investment timeframe (how long your money will be invested).

MySuper investment option

If you do not make an investment choice, your money will automatically be invested in Prime Super's MySuper investment option.

The MySuper investment option invests in a mixture of growth and defensive assets offering a balance between risk and return. The following table shows the asset classes in the MySuper option, including the target allocation and the asset allocation ranges at the date of this document. See the investment section of our website for up-to-date information.

In the event of a member's death, the Trustee will transfer their investment into the Cash option. This transfer will be effective the date that the member's death certificate is received by the Fund.

6. Fees and costs

Consumer Advisory Warning

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the Fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website moneysmart.gov.au has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

The text above is required by law. Fees and costs are not negotiable.

The Trustee may change its fees and charges at any time without your consent. You will receive at least 30 days' notice before any increase to fees charged by the Trustee (for example, fees deducted directly from your account). Estimated investment fees and costs and transaction costs may vary from year to year without prior notice. Updated estimated fees and costs information may be published at primesuper.com.au/fees

Fees and costs for the MySuper investment option

This section shows the main fees and other costs that you may be charged for our MySuper investment option and can be used to compare our fees and costs with other funds. Fees and costs may be deducted directly from your account, from investment returns or the fund's assets.

Other fees and costs may apply. See Section 6 of the Member Guide for details of fees and costs, including full fee definitions, at primesuper.com.au/pds.

i You should read the important information about Prime Super's fees and costs before making a decision. Go to Section 6 of the Member Guide at primesuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

7. How super is taxed

Super can be a tax-effective way for many Australians to save for retirement.

Taxation rules apply to both contributions and withdrawals from super, as well as earnings on your investments. These rules change from time to time.

Generally, your super fund pays all tax relating to your benefit and, where applicable, the Trustee will deduct it from your account balance (including where any caps may have been exceeded).

For the most up-to-date tax rates and contribution limits, visit the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) website at ato.gov.au/super.

Contributions

The amount of tax payable on super contributions depends on the type of contribution. Tax on contributions (if applicable) is deducted from these contributions when they are received by the Trustee, while being allocated to your account.

For tax purposes, contributions to super are either concessional or non-concessional contributions.

Concessional contributions include employer SG contributions and all contributions made from your before-tax salary, including salary sacrifice contributions. They are contributions for which a tax deduction has, or will, be claimed.

Concessional contributions typically attract up to 15% tax.

Non-concessional contributions are those made from after-tax money and usually consist of personal and spouse contributions.

No tax usually applies to these contributions at the super fund level, as tax has already been paid on that money outside the super environment. If you are able to, and you claim a tax deduction on personal contributions, they will become concessional contributions.

Certain requirements must be satisfied for personal contributions to be tax deductible.

Contribution limits

There are limits to the amount of concessionally taxed money you can contribute to super (across all funds you participate in) in any given year. These annual limits are known as ‘caps’.

The caps are set by the government and change from time to time. If these caps are exceeded, additional tax may apply.

Concessional contributions cap

The cap for concessional contributions in the 2025–26 financial year is $30,000, regardless of your age. If you are aged 67 to 74 years certain conditions associated with a ‘work test’ could affect how much you can contribute by way of personal tax deductible contributions. For information about the work test (and a related work test exemption) refer to the Member Guide primesuper.com.au/pds or visit ato.gov.au/super.

If you have less than $500,000 in super as at 30 June in the previous financial year, and have not maximised your concessional contributions in any of the previous 5 financial years, you can make additional concessional contributions to super in the financial year.

For example, if you made concessional contributions of $15,000 in the 2025–26 financial year, and have super of $500,000 or less, you could make concessional contributions of up to $45,000 in the 2025–26 financial year without exceeding the concessional contributions cap.

See Section 7 of the Member Guide ‘How super is taxed’ for further detail

Exceeding the concessional cap

You may pay extra tax if you exceed your concessional cap.

Tax File Number

You should provide us with your Tax File Number (TFN) when you join Prime Super, but you are not required by law to do so. If you don’t provide your TFN, contributions to your account, and any benefit payable to you, may be taxed at the highest marginal tax rate and we will not be able to accept your voluntary contributions.

Non-concessional contributions cap

The cap for non-concessional contributions in the 2025-26 year is $120,000. The ability to make non-concessional contributions to super without incurring extra tax is subject to having a total superannuation balance (across all super funds you participate in) of less than $2 million (indexed periodically) as at 30 June in the previous financial year.

If you are under age 75 at any time during the financial year, you may be able to bring forward up to two additional years of contributions. This allows you to contribute up to $360,000 at any time over three years (if the first year in which you bring forward your non-concessional contributions is the 2025-26 financial year).

Other conditions may apply and impact how much you can contribute.

If you are age 75 or older, you cannot make after-tax contributions, even if you are still gainfully employed.

Exceeding the non-concessional cap

You may pay extra tax if you exceed your non-concessional cap.

Investment earnings

Investment earnings are taxed at 15%, less allowable deductions. Some investments, such as property and shares, may carry tax credits that reduce the tax paid by Prime Super.

Tax payable on investment earnings is deducted from the earnings of Prime Super's investment options, before the earnings are applied to members' accounts. You will not pay personal income tax on the investment earnings of your super.

Tax on withdrawals

Generally, no tax is payable on withdrawals or benefit payments to those aged 60 and over. If you are under age 60, tax will be deducted from your benefit in accordance with current tax law before it is paid to you.

Death, Total & Permanent Disability, Terminal Illness and Income Protection benefits payable may also be subject to tax. This depends on the circumstances on receipt, whether your benefits are taxable or tax-free, and whether the low tax cap applies. See Section 7 Member Guide 'How super is taxed' for full details.

 You should read the important information about how super is taxed before making a decision. Go to Section 7 of the Member Guide at primesuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to tax may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

8. Insurance in your super

Insurance cover can be a valuable inclusion in your super, and is designed to protect you and your family when you need it most.

Prime Super offers insurances that can be tailored to suit your needs, including:

- Death only insurance (includes Terminal Illness)
- Death & TPD insurance

- Income Protection (IP) insurance.

There are costs associated with insurance cover provided through Prime Super. All insurance premiums are deducted directly from your account. Insurance fees, if applicable, are charged on the last business day of the calendar month. The insurance offered to Prime Super members is provided by TAL Life Limited ABN 70 050 109 450 AFSL 237848 (Insurer).

The payment of any claim is subject to the approval of the Insurer, the Trustee and any legislative restrictions that may apply.

Default insurance cover

On or after you join Prime Super's Health Division and if you meet eligibility requirements, you are provided with 4 units of Death & TPD insurance as default cover, based on the Health occupation category. Default cover is designed to provide support to you and your family in the event that you become sick, are injured or die (subject to the Insurer's assessment). Default cover may be limited cover in certain circumstances (i.e. pre-existing conditions won't be covered).

Default cover is unitised, which means you purchase it in units that have a set price (regardless of your age) and a specified benefit value depending on your age and occupation category. Default Death & TPD insurance cover (for 4 units) costs a total of $4.92 per week ($4.18 net of tax rebate), which is deducted from your account. Each unit of Death & TPD cover costs $1.23 per week ($1.05 net of tax rebate).

Default Death & TPD insurance cover (for 4 units) provides an eligible member in the Health occupation category with an amount of cover ranging from $137,216 (age next birthday of 15 - 25) to $14,984 (age next birthday of 66 - 70). The amount of cover is higher for the White Collar and Professional occupation categories. Refer to Section 8 of the Member Guide for more information.

Default insurance eligibility requirements

Default insurance is not provided in certain circumstances, including where you:

- have an account balance below $6,000 and/or
- are under the age of 25

and have not elected to take out insurance.

If you have an account balance of less than $6,000 and/or you are under the age of 25, you can elect to have default cover in writing. However you are ineligible for default cover if you are terminally ill, permanently incapacitated or have/are entitled to benefits for these conditions from any insurance policy.

Once your account balance reaches $6,000, and you are at least 25 years of age, you will be provided with default cover, subject to other eligibility requirements, unless you opt out.

⚠ If you are in a White Collar or Professional occupation you should let us know, as it impacts your insured benefits (if eligible). See Section 8 of the Member Guide for details of insurance benefits based on age and occupation category.

⚠ Payment of insurance premiums

Insurance premiums are deducted monthly from your account, unless you decline or cancel your cover.

Retain your insurance cover

Your insurance cover with Prime Super may be cancelled if your account has been inactive for 16 continuous months or more, meaning that no contributions or rollovers have been made to your account in that time.

If you want to retain your insurance, notwithstanding inactivity:

- contribute to your account or roll over funds from another super fund into your Prime Super account before your account has been inactive for 16 months.

OR

- log in to your secure MemberOnline account and opt to keep your insurance cover

- complete and return an Election to Maintain Insurance form available at primesuper.com.au/member/forms.

⚠ While insurance is an important element of super, remember that insurance premiums are deducted from your super account, which will reduce the amount of money available for retirement.

If you have a low account balance, or no longer receive contributions to your account, consider whether maintaining insurance cover is right for you.

⚠ Further information on premiums and other matters that may affect your entitlement to insurance cover (such as eligibility requirements, cancellation provisions, and other conditions and exclusions) is available in the Member Guide. You should read Section 8 of the Member Guide before deciding whether the insurance offered is appropriate for you.

If you would like information about insurance in super, please visit ASIC's website moneysmart.gov.au or speak to a licensed financial adviser.

You can also apply for increased cover, in addition to default cover.

Types of insurance cover

Death (including Terminal Illness) and Death & TPD

Death & TPD insurance provides an insured lump sum in addition to your account balance if you become totally and permanently disabled or die while you are an insured member of Prime Super. Death & TPD insurance covers you for the event that occurs first, therefore, if you make a claim for TPD and it is accepted by the Insurer, your Death cover (including your Terminal Illness cover) will reduce by the amount of your TPD benefit paid. Premiums will reduce in line with the reduced level of cover. Death only cover is available if you are ineligible for TPD insurance, or where you choose not to be insured for TPD.

Terminal Illness insurance provides an insured lump sum in place of a Death benefit if you are diagnosed with a Terminal Illness, as defined in the Member Guide, while an insured member of Prime Super. You must have Death or Death & TPD cover to make a Terminal Illness claim. All claims are subject to assessment by the Insurer.

If your Death cover and TPD cover (if applicable) is higher than the terminal illness benefit paid, then your Death cover and TPD cover (if applicable) will reduce by the amount of the benefit paid. Premiums will reduce in line with the reduced level of cover.

Income Protection (IP)

If applied for and accepted by the Insurer, IP insurance will provide a regular income of up to 87% of your monthly salary (75% of your monthly salary plus a superannuation benefit of up to 12% of your monthly salary paid to Prime Super as a super contribution).

You will be paid a total disability benefit if, in the Insurer's opinion, you are unable to work in your usual occupation due to sickness or injury for longer than your chosen Waiting Period (ie the time period after which your benefit will commence to be paid).

If you return to work after you become sick or injured you may still be eligible to receive a partial disability benefit, if you are working in a reduced capacity and are earning a lower income. IP benefits are paid for up to two years.

Costs of voluntary insurance cover

Prime Super offers fixed and unitised Death and TPD insurance cover. The following figures highlight costs for unitised insurance cover. Please refer to the Member Guide for details and costs of Fixed cover.

- Death only insurance (including Terminal Illness):
$0.84 per unit per week ($0.71 net of tax rebate).
- Death & TPD insurance:
$1.23 per unit per week ($1.05 net of tax rebate).

The cost of IP insurance varies depending on your age, gender and occupation category, and the level of cover and Waiting Period you select. See Section 8 of the Member Guide for details.

Your insurance cover will be cancelled if there are insufficient funds in your account to pay the next premium due.

Applying for, or changing, cover

Subject to eligibility requirements and acceptance by the insurer, you may apply:

- for voluntary Death only or Death & TPD insurance cover if you do not meet the eligibility requirements for default cover;
- for IP cover; or
- to increase your insurance cover

at any time via MemberOnline or by completing an Insurance application/ variation form, available at primesuper.com.au/member/forms.

To apply, answer a few simple questions and complete the Member Application form at the back of this PDS and return it to us, or request an increase via MemberOnline.

However, any government taxes or charges paid, or payable, by Prime Super as a result of your application will be deducted. Any contributions made will also be adjusted to reflect any investment earnings, positive or negative, before being refunded. The cooling-off period ceases once you have exercised a right in respect of membership; for example, making an investment choice.

Employer-sponsored members

Employer-sponsored members who have had their Prime Super account created by their employer are not entitled to a cooling-off period. A request to cancel your membership may still be made in writing to Prime Super, Locked Bag 5103, Parramatta NSW 2124.

2 Your investment choice

You can choose how to invest your super from our 10 different options set out in the table opposite. To invest in specific options, nominate the percentage of your account you want to invest in each option. Make sure to nominate whole numbers that add up to 100%.

If you don't make an investment choice, your account will be invested in the MySuper option.

The PDS and Member Guide provide an overview of each investment option and you can visit the Investment section of our website for information on returns.

Notes:

<sup>1</sup> Your account balance must be greater than $10,000 to invest, or remain, in the Property and Alternative investment options. If the account balance becomes less than $10,000, the selected investment will be switched to MySuper. Refer to the Member Guide for more information.

<sup>2</sup> Income earnings (net of investment fees and costs, transaction costs and investment taxes) for the Income Focused option are distributed monthly to the Cash option. Members may choose to keep the earnings in the Cash option or re-invest the money into another investment option.

3 Provide your Tax File Number

We ask for your Tax File Number (TFN) when you join Prime Super, but you are not required by law to provide it. However, if you don't provide your TFN:

- we may not be able to accept all types of contributions to your account, and
- higher taxes may be applied to your contributions and benefits.

If you provide your TFN, it is easier to trace your super so you receive all your benefits when you retire.

The Trustee is authorised by law to collect your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth) and to use and disclose it for lawful purposes.

We may disclose your TFN to another super fund, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request otherwise in writing. Your TFN will otherwise remain confidential.

Insert your nine digit TFN here:

4 Insurance

Eligible members will receive four units of Death and Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) insurance as default cover on or after joining Prime Super (once eligibility requirements are met<sup>1</sup>). You may be eligible if you are aged 25 to 69 years and you have an account balance of $6,000 or more.

If you are between the ages 14 years and 9 months to 24 years old and/or your account balance is less than $6,000, you can choose to opt-in (tell us that you want insurance cover) for default Death & TPD cover, once any other eligibility requirements are met.

Any default cover is unitised, which means each unit of default Death & TPD cover has a specific value, based the Health occupation category (unless you notify us otherwise) and your age. In some circumstances, default cover may be limited cover (ie. the cover is not available for pre-existing conditions). You should read Section 8 of the Member Guide for information on the different levels of cover, including individual unit values, and associated terms and conditions, before deciding whether the insurance offered is appropriate for you.

If you don't want insurance through the fund, you can opt out.

4 Insurance (continued)

If you have a terminal illness, are permanently incapacitated or a similar benefit is paid/payable to you under any insurance, you are ineligible for default cover. If this applies to you, you should opt out of default cover or contact us, as you may pay for cover you cannot claim on.

Special offers when Insurance starts

Once your insurance starts you are eligible for the following special offer, valid for 60 days from the date of a letter notifying you that default cover commences. You may apply for up to six units of Death & TPD cover in addition to your four units of default cover. You can also apply for fixed cover to the value of 10 units and up to $5,000 per month of Income Protection insurance cover based on a waiting period of either 30, 60 or 90 days.

Choose what you would like to do next:

Option a): Elect to maintain insurance cover in the event of future account inactivity.

Option b): Opt in to default Death & TPD cover.

Option c): Options to increase my cover (including our special offers).

Option d): Opt-out of, cancel or reduce my cover.

Option e): Change my occupation category.

a) Elect to maintain insurance cover in the event of future account inactivity

Prime Super is required by law to cancel any insurance cover you hold if your account has not received contributions or rollovers (inactivity) for a continuous period of 16 months, and you have not made an election to maintain your insurance cover. Please refer to Section 8 of the Member Guide for details.

You can elect to maintain any insurance cover provided/that may be provided to you even if your account is inactive by placing 'X' in the following box. Please note that any default cover you have will continue until you cancel your cover<sup>1</sup>.

I consent to maintain my insurance cover even if my account becomes inactive for a continuous period of 16 months.

If you don't mark this box, we will cancel all your insurance cover if your account is inactive for a continuous period of 16 months.

<sup>1</sup> Insurance cover may cease in other circumstances. Please note that you can also withdraw your election at any time.

b) Opt in to default Death and TPD cover

If you are currently aged 14 years and 9 months to 24 years old, and/or your account balance is less than $6,000, and you would like to opt in to default death & TPD cover, mark an 'X' in the box and go to section 8 of the form.

I would like to opt in to default Death & TPD cover I am eligible for. I understand that insurance premiums are deducted from my super account from the commencement of cover, which will reduce the amount of money available for retirement. I understand that marking this box will also mean I have opted in to maintain my insurance, even if my account becomes inactive<sup>1</sup>.

c) Increase my cover

There are options to increase your cover above the default level of cover.

Special offers

Take up the special offers for insurance, if eligible.

– Death & TPD special offer

– Income Protection special offer

Please make sure you read the details about insurance in Section 8 of the attached PDS and the Member Guide.

Before you apply for the Death & TPD or Income Protection special offers, you must read the Duty to take reasonable care information below.

Once you have read the Duty to take reasonable care, and completed the special offer questions, you must complete the Health Questionnaire.

Additional cover

If you would like to increase your cover, above the default 4 units and special offer of 6 units of Death & TPD cover (total of 10 units) or $5,000 per month of Income Protection cover, you can apply by completing the Insurance application/variation form available at primesuper.com.au/member/forms.

Duty to take reasonable care

When applying for insurance, you are treated as if you are applying for cover under an individual consumer insurance contract. A person who applies for cover under a consumer insurance contract has a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the Insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth.

If the duty is not met, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be changed. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced. Please note that there may be circumstances where the Insurer later investigates whether the information given to it was true. For example, it may do this when a claim is made.

Guidance for answering the questions in this form

When answering the questions in this form, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us before you respond.
- Answer every question.
- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- Review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, the Insurer may ask you whether the information that has been given as part of your application for insurance remains accurate or whether there has been a change to any of your circumstances which the Insurer reasonably considers to be relevant in assessing your application. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us or the Insurer know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand your obligations and the questions asked. Please contact us for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of obtaining insurance or answering any questions.

Death & TPD special offer

You can apply for increased cover with limited underwriting within 60 days from the date of the letter confirming your insurance cover has commenced (if applicable).

Unitised cover: You can apply for an additional 6 units, for a total of 10 units of cover. The value of each unit is dependent on your age next birthday.

Fixed cover: You can apply for up to an equivalent value of 10 units of cover. For example, if you are in the Health occupation category and are aged 40 on your next birthday, the maximum (fixed) value you could apply for using this form would be $477,000 (i.e. 10 units of cover).

If you require more than 10 units (or equivalent) of cover based on your age next birthday, you can apply via MemberOnline or complete an Insurance application/variation form, subject to full underwriting.

I want to take up the Death & TPD special offer and increase my cover.

To apply for the special offer you need to indicate the amount of extra cover you would like and complete the Health Questionnaire below.

I'd like to apply for  units (default cover) + additional  units =  (max. 10 units)

OR

Death & TPD fixed cover
(maximum amount of fixed cover is the equivalent $ value of 10 units of cover)

If you have chosen fixed cover, all of your Death and TPD cover will be fixed cover, as you cannot have a combination of unitised and fixed cover. See Section 8 of the Member Guide for more information. Remember to complete the Health Questionnaire below to be considered for increased and/or fixed insurance. Prime Super will review your application to determine whether you are eligible for cover under the special offer. If accepted, a letter will be issued to you confirming your cover and the date increased and/or fixed cover will commence. Your default cover will not be effected by your answers to the Health Questionnaire.

You can apply for increased cover with limited underwriting within 60 days from the date of the letter confirming your insurance cover has commenced (if applicable). You can use this form to apply for Income Protection cover with limited underwriting if you do so within 60 days of our insurance confirmation letter.

You can use this form to apply for a maximum of $5,000 worth of cover per month. If your income means you need cover in excess of this amount you can complete an application via your MemberOnline account or by completing an Insurance application/variation form, subject to full underwriting.

I want to take up the Income Protection special offer.

Income Protection cover provides a regular income of up to 87% of your salary (inclusive of a 12% of salary superannuation benefit), for up to two years if you are unable to work in your usual occupation due to sickness or injury and a benefit becomes payable.

What is your occupation?

If you are employed in an occupation which the Insurer reasonably deems carries significant risk, an extra premium may apply.

What is your current gross monthly salary (pre-disability income)?
Refer to the Member Guide for the definition of pre-disability income.

How much do you require per month?

(Note: You can only insure up to 87% of your pre-disability income. If eligible, any amount above 75% of your pre-disability income is payable as a superannuation contribution.)

What waiting period would you like to apply for?

- 30 days      60 days      90 days

Note: If you do not make a selection, the default 90 day period will apply.

See Section 8 of the Member Guide for more information about Income Protection cover and Waiting Periods.

You must complete the Health Questionnaire below to be considered for income protection cover. Prime Super will review your application to determine whether you are eligible for cover under the special offer. If accepted, a letter will be issued to you confirming your cover and the date income protection cover will commence.

Health Questionnaire

Please complete this if you would like to take up the Death & TPD or Income Protection special offer.

- |   |     |    |
|---|-----|----|
| 1. Are you currently, due to sickness or injury, restricted or unable to carry out all the duties of your usual occupation for at least 35 hours per week, even if you are not employed to work 35 hours per week?  | Yes | No |
| 2. Have you been diagnosed with, or do you suffer from, sickness or injury that may cause permanent inability to work or which reduces or is likely to reduce your life expectancy to less than 24 months?  | Yes | No |
| 3. Have you ever made a claim or are you currently intending to make a claim for sickness or injury from the following:– workers' compensation– government benefits (such as sickness benefit, invalid pension)– motor accident scheme– superannuation fund or– life insurance policies | Yes | No |
| 4. Have you been absent from your usual occupation (employed or unemployed) for more than five consecutive days in the last 24 months due to sickness or injury?  | Yes | No |
| 5. Have you ever had any application for Life, Terminal Illness & Total and Permanent Disablement or Income Protection cover, declined, or offered to you on non-standard terms (e.g. premium loading and/or exclusion) whether accepted by you or not?   | Yes | No |

If you answered 'No' to all of the above questions, your application may not require further underwriting.

If you answered 'Yes' to any of the above questions you are not eligible to increase or fix your Death & TPD cover, or obtain income protection cover, under the special offer. You will need to complete a Insurance application/variation form, subject to full underwriting, for your request to be considered.

d) Opt out of, cancel or reduce your default Death & TPD cover

I confirm that I am opting-out of any default cover I am/become eligible for and understand this means I will have no insurance in the fund. If I cancel within 60 days from the date my default cover commences, any premiums I pay/have paid will be refunded to my account. I understand that by requesting this, I have opted out of insurance from the beginning of my insurance cover and I cannot make any claim for sickness/injury that occurred while I did not have insurance cover. If I apply for insurance through Prime Super in the future, I understand that my application will be subject to assessment by the insurer and I may need to provide detailed health and medical information.

I would like to reduce the amount of cover below the default 4 units of Death & TPD cover, and understand that reducing my units of cover will mean that if I apply for insurance through Prime Super in the future, my application will be subject to assessment by the insurer and I may need to provide detailed health and medical information.

I would like to reduce my cover to  units.

e) Change your occupation category

Our default Death & TPD cover is based on the Health occupation category and your age. If you are in a low risk occupation you may be entitled to be in a White Collar or Professional category which offer a higher level of cover.

If you want to change your occupation category you can do so on MemberOnline or by completing the Insurance application/variation form available on our website.

5 Beneficiaries

Nominate the beneficiaries you wish to receive your benefit or pension in the event of your death.

It is important to note that each person you nominate must qualify as a dependant.

You should refer to the current Member Guide at primesuper.com.au/pds for more information about who qualifies as a dependant, the difference between non-binding and binding beneficiaries and how to make a binding nomination. You can also refer to the Nominating beneficiaries fact sheet, available on our website.

Your options

Tick one of the boxes below to indicate what type of nomination you are making non-binding nomination/s – tells the Trustee who you would like to receive benefit, but is not binding. The Trustee will decide who the benefit will be paid to based on relevant laws but we will take into consideration your nomination and your beneficiaries' needs.

OR

binding nomination/s – means the Trustee will pay your benefit to your chosen beneficiaries, if valid and effective at the date of your death. This nomination lapses after three years.

OR

non-lapsing binding nomination/s – means the Trustee will pay your benefit to your chosen beneficiaries. This nomination does not lapse unless the Trustee withdraws its consent.

5 Beneficiaries (continued)

Nominate your beneficiaries in the table below. Please provide the full name of your nominated beneficiary, the percentage of your benefit you would like them to receive and their relationship to you.

Remember, nominated beneficiaries may be your spouse, child, a person who is financially dependent on you or who meets the definition of interdependency (you will need to identify the nature of the relationship and nature of interdependency or financial dependency) or your legal representative (e.g. executor of your will or administrator of your estate).
